Annual Stream Clearing Event
Saturday 2 June 2007

Always a favourite, if only to see if anyone is going to fall in (none so far, sadly, though there have been some near misses).

Although we had a sunny day, recent heavy rains had swelled the brooks so some areas were inaccessible. Quentin demonstrated some impressive lassoing techniques (has he trained on a ranch?) to remove a pushchair from the middle of the lake. The day resulted in the usual haul of tyres, traffic cones and shopping trolleys. More unusual items included a wheelie bin and a toy hairdresser's head which gave Emma rather a shock as it came up from the bottom of the stream bed with realistic hair waving.
